

Attention all single or divorced men: There is now a system that will help you learn the proper techniques to Attract Women and never be without a date again!

“Proven Method Shows Men How to Attract Women While Not Worrying About Looks, Age, or Income and Never Be Without a Date Again!”

Dating Coach Reveals How You Can Attract Someone of the Opposite Sex By Simply Being Yourself without Using Pickup Lines or Having a Fear of Rejection!

Dear Single or Divorced Men:

It's another Saturday night and you are all alone. You don't have a date again. You called all your friends, but they claim to have dates. Not a pleasant situation to be in.

The problem, according to a study, is that seven out of every ten men are rejected when they approach a woman to ask her out.

You may not think about it or worry, or at least you may not appear to, but in some ways you are concerned.

You may not realize this, but there are certain facts about women and dating that could have an effect on your approach and prospect for dating. In fact there are myths surrounding women and dating. These myths are:

1. Women are very concerned about looks of men and judge accordingly.

This is a myth, for according to studies, women do not judge by looks. They are more emotional when making decisions. Therefore, looks or age are not that important to women. If you want to reach a woman, appeal to her emotions.

2. Women will laugh and reject any man who comes near them.

Because of this myth, men are afraid to approach a woman. They get rejected a couple of times and think all women will reject them. This is farther from the truth. In reality, women love for men to come up to them and talk. It shows the man has an interest in the woman.

3. Women just want to be friends only.

If this was the case, no one would date. Men have gotten the wrong message regarding women and how they feel about men, especially on the first date. Men want to hide their true feelings and intentions because they figure women just want to be friends. It is only after they become friends with the girl, they will reveal their true feelings. In reality, once the woman meets the man, and they start talking, the woman already considers the man a friend.

For many years men have been kept in the dark regarding the opposite sex and how to approach them.

And it is because of the same repetitive movements, you guys are still in the same fix you were before.

The only problem is:

You Guys Don't Want to Do Anything About It...

You just go about your daily lives not worrying about whether you will meet someone for real or not. You don't stop to realize there are secrets to meeting women that if you knew them, you'd be walking with your date next to you, instead of being alone.

Well all that is about to change, for you will learn a secret method to attracting females that 99.9% of the men population do not know.

But before I venture off and tell you my trade secrets, let me tell you a bit about myself.

My name is Bruce Kim. At the age of 21 while I was in college and after having failure after failure with women, I finally came up with the life-changing decision to find out what it took to attract and interact with women.

Therefore, for the next 5 years, I did everything it took to become better at the area of picking up, attracting, and dating women:

- ◆ I approached 2000 women in bars, clubs, streets, college campuses, beaches, bookstores, malls, movie theatres, streets, restaurants, parking lot, etc.
- ◆ Interviewed the best of the best pickup gurus out there PERSONALLY.
- ◆ Took seminars & workshops by well known pickup gurus such as:
 - Mystery (he has his own VH1 "The Pickup Artist" show)
 - Tyler Durden (from realsocialdynamics.com)
 - Craig Clemens (associate from doubleyourdating.com)

After I had some success with the pickup methods, I began to notice that long-term success was my problem. In fact, the Gurus I met were having the same problem.

I began to have more & more doubts about the pickup community's fantasy of being a pickup artist...it was just unrealistic and nobody I met was good as they claimed to be...

So I gave up on the pickup community and moved on with my life...

I finished college, got a job, made some new friends, and I started noticing something interesting. Women were starting to COME TO ME!

Women started talking to me, even giving me their phone number. I began to wonder why.

After having had date after date, and having had relationships with women, I began to put the pieces together and soon discovered it was not based on any pickup line, but was based on my CONFIDENCE level.

I had developed genuine confidence that came from the inside...

I gathered everything I knew and experienced, and created a step-by-step, as well as structured system, with the idea that if every man followed it, they would start having much more success attracting women NATURALLY, simply by unlocking their true "alpha" within them, than by using pickup lines or any advice given by so-called gurus, because this method I developed was based on one's own true self.

Now I have supreme confidence with women that 99% of my friends do not have whenever we go out and meet women.

I'm always the guy who is confident to go out and approach girls, ask for their phone number, make them laugh, and end up dating them.

I don't get laid like a rock star but my confidence with women has sky-rocketed and meeting, approaching, and dating women is more fun, more successful, and enjoyable than EVER before.

It was because of this new found confidence I was able to attract members of the opposite sex. Since my newly created discovery worked for me, I figured it would work for other men; as such I am making it available to all single and divorced men everywhere.

What is this newly created discovery?

It is called "Alpha Within"

My "Alpha Within" course is the ONLY course that provides you with core-lessons that will be focused on bringing out the best self within you.
